SHUN ALL PRIESTS, DOCTORS, LAWYERS SAYS OLD SKEPTIC

North Benton Farmer Warns Heirs, Codicil Found 16 Years After Death.

PECULIAR WILL IS PENNED BY BEDELL

Made Trip To Palestine To Disprove Truth Of The Bible.

Rejecting all religions as either frauds or superstitions and accepting for his guide reason alone, Chester Bedell of North Benton was in his day one of the famous agnostics of this section.

A remarkable codicil to the will of the Mahoning valley farmer, who died in 1907, the owner of 2,000 acres of valuable land, it is said, and other property, has just come to light in connection with certain properties in Portage county. The will was made in 1880 and the codicil added in 1889.

Bedell made four trips to the Holy Land during his lifetime to disprove the Bible and the teachings of the pulpit doctrinaires and afterward declared he had made good in his quest. He accepted reason for his guide. Born in poverty, he went to Berlin township in 1835 from his native New Jersey and died a rich man.

Erected Odd Shaft
Several years before his death, Bedell had erected before his future grave a sculptured figure of himself on a tall shaft and representing him in the act of treading the Bible under foot. The marker was meant as a rebuke to the priests, he declared, whom he characterized as those who use religion as a cloak to gain a living without useful work.

Bedell is quoted as having remarked that he was an infidel before Bob Ingersoll, saying that "naked, unsupported faith is all the Christian has to rely upon as a substitute for history, science and common sense."

Gives Last Advice
"I wish to put this on record for the benefit of my posterity. In my judgment it is of more value than gold or silver, or the wealth of India. Shun priests of all orders, doctors of all professions and lawyers of all grades as you would a venomous serpent. Priests blunt the intellect to rob you of your earnings; Doctors destroy your system to rob you of your earnings. I don't include surgery with doctors. Above all classes that afflict humanity lawyers are the worst. They instigate contention, and upon that contention they prey upon their subjects. They are like a confederation of robbers. They have no principle. They prey upon their subjects as long as they can get one dollar from them, and then divide the spoils among themselves. Then they hunt other victims. I have known attorneys who have worthless clients to commence action against responsible parties who would have to employ an attorney, and the two or more (there is generally a gang of them) would confederate together and keep the case in court until they could worry money from the responsible party to get out of the clutches of the dragons. And then the dragons would divide the spoils."

"I don't say priests, doctors and lawyers are of no value, but I do say that the evil they do far surmounts the good, and the human family would be far better off without them. I have known attorneys to steal the judge's notes to prevent a decision. I have known attorneys to cause false entries to be made on the journal. And the judges are created from the lawyers and but little more honest."

"As my parting request I ask you to think well before you are led away with any of the above mentioned parties. It is hard to be robbed, but one robbery is not as bad as a succession of robberies."

"It is my wish that this be published to the world."

DRIVEN DESPERATE BY DOPE, STUDENT SHOOT'S HIMSELF

Youth Reveals Dope Seller Gets Rich By Selling To School Boys.

Chicago, Jan. 31.—Driven desperate by "dope," George Roth, 18 years old, a student at Lane Technical High school, shot himself early today and is near death at Passavant hospital. Roth told his father, A. J. Roth and the police, that he is the victim of a "dope" seller who has been "growing rich by selling drugs to students at the high school."

The boy, who was to have graduated tomorrow, had left two notes to his father, one of which ended with this line:

"Please watch the other kids."

The police immediately began an investigation. They were of the opinion that many pupils at the high school are victims of the "dope" peddler.

Lying in the hospital with the police and his father bending over him, the youth told a pathetic story of his drug experience.

Given First "Shot"
One day last October, he said, he was suffering from a toothache. A fellow student told him he could get medicine to stop the pain. He went to the man and was given a "shot."

From then on it was "one shot after another."

It began to tell on him, the boy said. He felt shaky, unnerved at times—not himself. He shunned some of his old friends.

Then he quit school. That was months ago. Since then he has been worried that his parents would find out.

Graduation imminent, he could not hide his disgrace from his parents any longer, he thought. So he left two notes, one of which said:

"Well, Dad, I am at the end of my rope. I suppose you are onto me by this time. You don't have to blame me; blame the dope. I used to buy it from a fellow who peddled it at school."

Another Lyceum Course Is Voted
Methodists Decide To Add a Number To Course This Season.

The M. E. Sunday school will give a lyceum course in this city next season. This decision was reached Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Sunday school board. This was the first meeting of the new officers and there were 35 at the supper which preceded the meeting.

Owing to the general dissatisfaction of one of the numbers which was presented during the course this winter, the committee has arranged to add an extra number to the course, and the subject and date will be announced later. All season ticket holders will be permitted to enjoy this number free.

Ray F. Carter, executive secretary of the Salem Community Service, was an invited guest at the meeting and in a talk told of his work and of the modern ideas of taking care of the recreational activities of the young people.

Only 2,000 Dog Tags Issued In County

So far this year only 2,000 dog tag licenses have been taken out in this county, and there are as many more yet to be taxed according to the books in the office of Deputy Randall H. Hamilton.

Deputy Sheriff Rollins, who has charge of the collection of this particular taxes, is getting ready to start out to enforce the collection on all canines that have not been paid and no time will be wasted with those who own dogs and do not pay. The person who harbors a dog on his or her premises is the owner in the sight of the law and will be responsible for the taxes.

BROOKHART'S BILL SEEKS TO REPEAL ESCH-CUMMINS ACT

Senator Wants Railroad Legislation Kept Before The Country.

DEMOCRAT CHIEFS OUTLINE PROGRAM

Government Ownership Is Sought If Changes Are Not Provided.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Into the maze of legislative perplexities in the senate, Senator Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, shortly will inject a bill to repeal the Esch-Cummings transportation act, and drastically modifying railway control within the United States, it was learned today.

While the Iowa senator and supporters of the proposal do not hold remotest hope favorable action can be secured at this time, they want railroad legislation to be before the country so sentiment will be ripe to force a change during the next congress.

In many quarters Brookhart's move was taken as a harbinger that the nationalization issue would be thrown into the 1924 campaign.

Democratic Plan
Aside from the La Follette people's legislative service and the conference or progressive political action, both of which are backed by labor unions and favor nationalization, there were strong intimations a certain element within the Democratic party would advocate government ownership of the railroads.

It was said that at the recent meeting here between William G. McAdoo and William Jennings Bryan, a tentative program, embracing government ownership, had been outlined and would be put out to the country before the next convention in an effort to crystallize public sentiment. Should the reaction prove favorable, the McAdoo-Bryan coalition would stand ready to demand adoption of the program as a regular, and one of the most important planks in the party's platform.

If plans of the so-called progressives fail to change railway laws to their liking there is but little doubt they will launch a fight in 1924 for government ownership. This group, whose power is becoming more and more evident in the senate, especially in successfully opposing the ship subsidy, has been greatly heartened by the speeches of Senator Couzens, Republican of Michigan.

Five Changes
After repealing the Esch-Cummings act, the present law under which railroads operate. Brookhart's bill sets forth five important changes in railroad administration:

- 1.—Restoration of the powers of state public utilities over intra-transportation questions.
- 2.—Limitation of the valuation of railroads to the market value of securities, over a reasonable period of time. This, it is estimated, would reduce the valuation from about $19,000,000,000 to $12,000,000,000.
- 3.—Stop capitalization of the unearned increment in real estate values.
- 4.—Define adequate returns on a basis not to exceed the interest on the bonded portion of the capitalization.
- 5.—Stop excessive profits of subsidiary corporations, such as companies supplying steel rails and coal.

Practically every division of U. S. troops is shown in action during the picture. The movie will be used as a benefit for the local post of Veterans.

Hit By Auto, Thrown In Street Car's Path

Fish License Bill Revives Interest In Hatchery Plan

The passage of the fish license bill in the Ohio senate yesterday has revived interest among sportsmen in the proposed fish hatchery for this county at the Guilford dam.

Just as soon as the house concurs in the senate action, petitions will be circulated and delegations sent to Columbus to urge the fish and game department officials to take up the proposition at once. State engineers have already made surveys of the proposed site and assurances have been given that the first hatchery built will be in this county.

The dam will create a lake covering 600 acres and will cover territory that held reserve water for the Sandy and Beaver canal erected in 1845.

NARCOTIC IMPORT BARRED BY ORDER OF CUSTOMS BODY

Government Is Alarmed At Large Quantities Of Dope In U. S.

Washington, Jan. 31.—All importation of narcotics in the United States was ordered summarily stopped today by the customs division of the treasury department.

Alarmed at the seemingly large quantities of dope coming into the country through the various ports of the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard, treasury officials ordered all importations stopped until the federal narcotics control board determines just what is "a proper amount" for medical and legitimate needs.

The orders halting importation were issued by H. A. Hayward, head of the narcotics control board. He said that they would not be resumed until his office is able to ascertain the amount of opium and cocaine leaves that are necessary for all legitimate purposes during the year 1923.

"I am writing to every importer of narcotics," said Hayward, "advising them that no more applications for imports will be approved by this office for the time being and requesting their co-operation in our investigations."

HOMES OFFERED TO 35 CHILDREN

Child Welfare Agent Says People Of County Are Very Responsive.

Miss Esther McClain, representative of the state Child Welfare department, was in Lisbon Wednesday conferring with Judge Lodge Riddle of the juvenile court with reference to homes for homeless children.

Miss McClain stated that she had received offers from 35 homes in this county to take children to board. Some of the offers were to keep children without cost with a possibility of eventually adopting them.

These offers were in response to appeals published recently for homes for homeless babies and small children. Miss McClain stated that the people of Columbiana county were more responsive than those of any county in which she had worked.

The homes of the people making such offers will be investigated and if found suitable, children will be placed with them.

G. BRITAIN ACCEPTS AMERICAN PLAN OF FUNDING WAR DEBT

Terms Provide 3 Per Cent Interest Rate For Ten Years.

London, Jan. 31.—Great Britain has accepted the American plan for the payment of the $4,500,000,000 war debt to the United States, it was officially announced this afternoon, following a cabinet meeting.

It is understood that the action of the cabinet in accepting the American terms was due to pressure from British bankers.

These terms, which were revealed by Stanley Baldwin, British chancellor of the exchequer, and were called to the United States, provide for a three per cent interest rate for 10 years on the British debt. It is not certain yet whether the rate will be raised to three and one-half per cent or whether negotiations on an interest rate will be reopened in 1932.

Washington, Jan. 31.—Acceptance by the British cabinet of the American plan for refunding the $5,000,000,000 debt of Great Britain to the United States will be followed immediately by a request to congress from President Harding for liberalization of the debt funding law, administration officials said this afternoon.

"I am very happy to hear it," said Sen. Smoot of Utah, a member of the American debt commission, when informed of the action of the British cabinet. "It will go a long way towards clearing up the debt problem between that country and United States."

Now Perhaps You Can Figure Your Intelligence Test

Cleveland, Jan. 1.—"Sixteen and one-half per cent of the human race has only the intelligence of the 15-year-old," declared Dr. H. H. Goddard, professor of psychology at Ohio State university and former director of the Ohio bureau of juvenile research, in an address late yesterday at Lakewood Presbyterian church.

"Seventeen per cent of the children have no business in school after their 15th year, as schools are run now," continued Dr. Goddard. "Ten per cent of the human race has intelligence less than that of the normal 10-year-old, and we are making criminals of them by turning them against the government."

Dr. Goddard proposed an alteration of school curricula to give special training in manual crafts to children whose intelligence never exceeds the normal level of the 15-year-old.

THEFT OF PISTOL CHARGED AGAINST BIRCH, DRY AGENT

George Dan Claims Gun Was Stolen During Liquor Raid Nov. 22.

Coming as an aftermath to the liquor raids here on Nov. 22 which more than 25 persons were arrested by state and East Palestine officers on liquor law charges, was the issuance of a warrant in the court of justice of the Peace J. F. Penrose, for the arrest of Harlan Birch, formerly of East Palestine, on a charge of having stolen a revolver.

The charge was preferred by George Dan of Salem, who claims that Birch took a revolver from his place of business when the raiding squad visited there on Nov. 22.

The warrant was issued Wednesday morning, more than two months after the theft is alleged to have been committed, and was given to Constable Walter Davidson for service.

Davidson went to East Liverpool Wednesday morning where the constable listed the aid of the police in locating Birch. The latter is said to have been making his residence in East Liverpool during the past month.

Constable Davidson and the East Liverpool police officers were endeavoring to locate Birch late Wednesday. He will be arraigned before Justice Penrose if apprehended.

RESPECT FOR LAW IS TERMED TEST OF AMERICANISM

Dr. McMaster Says Revival Of Appreciation Of Law Is Needed.

GIVES ESSENTIALS OF AMERICANISM

Mt. Union President Speaks At Meeting Of Chamber Of Commerce.

"Americanism means backing up the officials; if they fail to do their duty they can be impeached," Dr. W. H. McMaster, president of Mt. Union college, told members of the Salem Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night.

"There must be government of law and not of men," he continued. "It is un-American if we take the law in our own hands. It seems to me that we need a revival of appreciation of law."

Dr. McMaster was speaking on "Essentials of True Americanism" at the monthly gathering of the Chamber of Commerce following an excellent dinner served to about 60 members. The meeting in charge of President D. B. McCune, was made interesting also by readings given by Paul Drennon of the High school faculty and by reports submitted by Secretary H. P. Lowell.

The renaissance, reformation and revolution emancipated the individual intellectually, religiously and politically, Dr. McMaster told his auditors. The first of the three great "R's" gave us the right to think for ourselves and then came liberties which guaranteed the freedom of speech and press, he continued.

The right to freedom of religious worship developed from the reformation. If we claim the right to freedom in religious thought we must grant the same privilege to our neighbors he asserted.

The American revolution emancipated the individual politically, gave him a part in government and the 19th amendment, which granted equal suffrage, is an integral part of that revolution, Dr. McMaster contended.

"The 18th amendment is the greatest reform ever concerted into the form of law; it is a fundamental part of our laws and should be enforced," he continued. "We may speak against a law but we must obey all laws. Any man has a right to try to change a law to which he is opposed but any law that has been enacted should be enforced. There is too much of a tendency today to obey the laws we like and to disobey those we do not like."

Appreciation of Dr. McMaster's address was expressed in a rising vote of thanks.

C. E. LEASE HEADS CHURCH MENTORS

Teachers Of Religious Day School Organize To Promote Work.

Charles E. Lease, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lease of Salem, and a student in Lawrence college, Appleton Wis., has been elected president of the newly organized Church Weekday School Teachers association of that city.

This is the only association of weekday religious school teachers known to exist and the members cherish an ambition to spread the idea first to Wisconsin and then to other states so a national organization may be formed in furtherance of weekday religious education.

The constitution provides that all persons who have taught in the school at any time, or in the daily vacation Bible school, may become members of the association. Meetings will be held perhaps once a month to discuss problems of the school.

Aims of the association will be to further the principles and program of religious education, increase teaching efficiency and give cooperation to those in charge of community training activity.

CHURCH TO SEEK BUILDING FUNDS

The Methodist Episcopal church of Lisbon has started a campaign to raise $40,000 with which to build an addition to the church, purchase a new pipe organ and erect a new parsonage for the pastor.

The addition to the church will be for the purpose of making more room for the Sunday school scholars and for rooms in which young people may hold meetings. Some time ago a lot held south of the church was purchased with those improvements in view. The membership will be assigned canvassers and subscriptions will be taken within the next week or two. A meeting will be held at the church Thursday evening to make further plans.

Worse Than The Disease

UNDOUBTEDLY the new situation created in human affairs by the amazing growth of the use of motor-driven vehicles has caused a natural and perfectly normal demand for protection against the abuses that have sprung up in the train of this expansion. Society seeks some means of safety.

There is pending at the state capital a bill offered by Representative Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, whose drastic provisions, when carried into practical effect, would be to make the owner of a motor vehicle responsible for damages resulting from injuries inflicted through its operation. There are apparently fair qualifications which seem to safeguard the owner, but the history of damage suits will demonstrate their utter futility.

The fixing of responsibility for the acts of relatives declared by the measure to be agents and the presumptions created in this connection leave the owner but a penny's worth of defense against a suit.

Legal annals contain many instances of the injustice of the principle of presumption of malice or guilt from certain facts or conditions. This measure contains this dangerous provision in the most pronounced degree. That safeguarding human life and limb against this new instrument is desirable there can be no gainsaying. But it is absolutely just to say that the proposed remedy now under consideration is as bad as, if not worse than, the things it seeks to cure.

Exercise By Proxy

THE American people have a deep-rooted desire to hire somebody else to take their exercise for them. Look at the thousands of men who go to ball games in every city, and the comparatively few who ever play themselves. The ideal seems to be to sit comfortably in the shade and employ somebody else to run around in the sun.

This situation has existed in colleges as well as in the world outside. The playing of football or basketball or baseball has been delegated to a few specialists, while the bulk of the students have been content to take their exercise in cheering them on. It is this condition that Ohio State university and several other western schools have undertaken to correct, as reported by Hugh Fullerton in his correspondence on the athletic situation in American colleges. Through the adoption of a reasonable program, with energetic direction, nearly 11,000 students participated in athletic contests at Ohio State last year.

There is a result worth while. Under such a scheme athletics accomplish what it ought to, in helping to develop the individual student. It is fine to have a winning football team. But the physical benefit is confined to a few. The schools like Ohio State are leading the way to a democratizing of athletics that ought to produce a better physical endowment of college students generally.

Improvements are being made at the Grafton Iron furnace, Leetonia. A new device for breaking pig iron and loading it is being installed.

Man Fond of Finding Fault Denounces Tradition Followed by the Manufacturers of Quilts.

"The older I get," said the man who finds fault, according to the New York Sun, "the more convinced I am that few individuals know the business they are supposed to know. Every time I start out to buy something that I really want I am more than ever impressed with this idea. Take the case of quilts and comforts, for instance. They are always made square, though the beds on which they are used are oblong. It is as foolish as making square pegs for round holes.

"I am six feet and a trifle to spare. The man who will make a quilt a foot longer than the usual size can sell me two.

"When I complain at the stores I am told that quilts have always been made square. That style may have been good enough for Adam, Solomon, King George III, and the Pied Piper, but we have improved transportation, the mail service, haircuts and plumbing since those men flourished, and it seems to me possible to improve the bed covering."

Home-made Remedy Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. It usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Four 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly breaks the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

PARTY PUBLICITY HIDES DISSENSION

NOTHING FROM HEADQUARTERS IN WASHINGTON TELLS OF THE DIVISION ON POLICIES.

BUT MANY OF THESE EXIST

Republicans Opposed to Renomination of President Harding Working for State Primary Legislation—Col.
House Cheers the Democrats.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—Last someone should forget it, let it be said that in Washington "we always have politics with us." This is the national headquarters for legislation; it is also the national headquarters for politics, and frequently the wheels of the political machinery whirl much faster than those of the legislative.

There are plenty of innuendoes, charges and things intended to be real information, emanating day by day from the offices of the political chiefs. There are some things, however, which the spokesmen and the writers of either headquarters keep unto themselves. They never put out anything in speech or in writing which tends to show that there is any division whatsoever on policies within the party ranks.

Naturally enough, no one gets anything from Republican headquarters concerning the marked differences of opinion on legislation which exist between the so-called progressives and the so-called conservatives within the halls of congress. Neither does anyone get from Democratic headquarters anything concerning the differences of opinion which exist within the party ranks concerning such a matter, for instance, as the League of Nations or some other means of entering into the affairs of Europe.

It is perfectly true that in the ranks of Republicanism, as in the ranks of Democracy, there are friends of the League of Nations proposition, and there are more friends of some kind of a plan for straightening out the affairs of Europe, but the divided schools of thought are unable to exploit their views by means of headquarters' propaganda because doing it would disclose the fact of the division of sentiment.

Scheme of Harding Opponents.

Just now it is known that the leaders of one element of Republicanism are endeavoring to secure from the legislatures of six or seven states which are in session this winter the enactment of presidential primary legislation. It is said that this attempt is being made by the Republicans who are opposed to the renomination of President Harding and that they hope, through the delegate strength which they expect to get if the laws they want shall be enacted, to be able with the force which they can muster elsewhere to defeat the President's nomination.

Representatives of the conservative type say that it is not at all assured that the primaries would go the way their brethren seem to think they would go, and that therefore they can look with equanimity upon the change of law in the states which thus far have not provided for primaries for presidential delegates.

It also should be said that Republican leaders in the house and senate, the administration leaders, think that they can iron out between now and June, 1924, such wrinkles of difference as there may be between them and the beloved ones who disagree with them, and that therefore all will be harmonious in the national convention and that, if seemingly he shall deserve it, President Harding will get his renomination without trouble.

Nursing Factional Disputes.

Democratic leaders in Washington, while they say nothing about differences in their own party, are paying great attention to the differences in the party of the opposition. It is the present duty and apparently the pleasant duty of Democratic political headquarters to print and to distribute matter which calls attention to the division of thought in the Republican party, and to accentuate it as much as possible. Moreover, the Democrats are saying and writing fine things about the Republicans in congress who seemingly stand opposed to the administration's policies.

The Republican headquarters, also, while keeping well within hiding any suggestion of party troubles of their own, are accentuating those which are besetting the Democrats, and they also are saying nice things about certain Democratic senators who do not seem to be in entire accord with the majority Democratic endeavor.

Col. E. M. House, who for years was a close friend and adviser of former President Woodrow Wilson, has come out of semi-retirement to express a hopeful view of the Democratic future. He is credited with saying that the Democrats surely can elect their nominee in 1924, provided they do not "do something foolish in the meantime." The colonel, however, couples his prophecy of Democratic victory with a plea for entrance into the League of Nations. Some of the Democrats wish he had omitted the second paragraph of his shiningly bright prophecy of success.

PROPOSE TO LIMIT FARM PRODUCTION

Farmers Of State Suggest
Elimination Of Crops
Which Cause Loss.

Columbus Jan. 31.—Ohio farmers discussing the question "Shall we limit production?" in the second of a series of Farmers' Week open forums here today, seemed generally of the opinion that agriculture, as a business, must do something to adjust its output to the varying demand of its various commodities.

T. N. Caven, professor of economics at Harvard university, who has come to Columbus for the week to lead these discussions, summed up at the end in these words:

"We must limit agricultural production if we can find out what it is costing us to produce various things and can then stop producing the things, on which we are losing money. But it would be utterly useless to try to limit farm production and we ought not to try to, if this means trying to use any kind of authority over the individual farmer, or any kind of a threat to send him into retrenchment.

"An orderly adjustment, based on facts, is all that is right or practical."

Of the 61 Farmers' Week events on today's program 24 were run off this morning. The annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation closes tonight, with election of officers and the adoption of resolutions. Eight other state agricultural organizations have annual meetings scheduled for tomorrow as a part of the Farmers' Week program.

Too Much for Lady Officer

Last year they had a lady traffic officer in an eastern city and she was good, too. She wore white gloves, knickerbockers, a jaunty cap, and directed traffic with all the nonchalance of an experienced cop. One day, however, she turned in her equipment and returned to skirts. A lady friend wanted to know what the trouble was.

"I don't care to discuss it," the L. C. declared.

"Aw, go on and tell me, dearie," said the other.

"Well, the chief refused a reasonable request and I quit," conceded the L. C.

"Something in the line of duty?" the other woman wanted to know.

"I so consider it. I merely wanted an hour off to get my hair washed."

His Wife's Legacy

By MORRIS SCHULTZ

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

The only time Mrs. Anderson showed any signs of vexation with her husband was when she caught him kicking Mopsy. She snatched the lapdog up in her arms.

"Darling, darling Mopsy!" she whimpered. "Oh, Ronald, how could you?"

Ronald Anderson looked in disgust at the partner of his joys and sorrows. Mrs. Anderson was fifty-one, and he had just turned the forty mark. They had been married two years, and he had married her for her money. However, it was impossible for her to make a settlement upon him, because her capital was in trust.

Nevertheless she gave him a handsome allowance. On the first of every month he found an envelope with two hundred dollars for spending money on his plate at breakfast. Usually it had a little note inside, "From Georgina to her darling Ronnie." Ronald Anderson hated these evidences of affection.

And he hated Georgina! God, how he hated her! He had married her for her money, of course. He knew that he would never have gone through those two years again.

It was not that Georgina made life difficult for him. Not at all. It was her infernal affection and complacency. She was always hanging around him, cooking dainties for him. She was always putting her arms round his neck and putting up her face to be kissed. Ugh, how he hated her!

Her only other love in life was Mopsy, the fat pug. Ronald used to kick the beast when Georgina wasn't around. The asthmatic, waddling form used to skulk into corners or run yelping from him. And now Georgina had caught him kicking it.

Georgina looked at him with big eyes of reproach. "To hurt darling Mopsy!" she wept.

"I—I'm jealous of that beast, Georgie," said Ronald. "You're always lavishing affection on it that ought to belong to me."

She came toward him, breathless. "Do you mean that, Ronnie?" she whispered. "Didums Ronnie mean he loves his little wife after all?"

"Oh, yes, I love you," answered Ronald, with a subdued snarl, as he felt Georgina's arms about his neck.

When his wife was out of the room he dealt Mopsy a kick that sent it yelping into a corner.

Georgina fell ill. It was a mysterious ailment—it might have been what used to be called a broken heart, only hearts don't break any more. Ronald hoped she would die. One thing worried her.

"Ronnie, Ronnie, darling," she wailed, "poor, dear Mopsy will get ill without anyone to take him for walks. Won't you take him out every morning, Ronnie?"

Ronald had to do it. He took the asthmatic pug out on a lead morning after morning, and the boys used to shout after him. When he got it around the corner he used to kick it. He liked to see the creature yelp and waddle to the extremity of the lead.

One morning when he came home Ronald thought Georgina behaved rather queerly to him. She had just had a visitor—Miss Thompson, a crabbed old maid whom Ronald had met on his walk that day. Miss Thompson hated Ronald.

After that Georgina got worse steadily, and at last there was no doubt but that she would die. On the day before the end she called Ronald to her bedside.

"Ronnie," she whispered, "I'm a dying woman, and I want you to tell me something truly. Did you marry me for my money or for myself? Because—you can have whichever you want, you know."

Ronald did not understand. He thought her mind was wandering. "Why, darling, what a question! What do I care for your money? It's you, you, you!"

Georgina received his kiss passively and closed her eyes. Next day she died.

Next day Ronald kicked the pug all round the room.

Next day the lawyer called with the will. "Hum, a peculiar legacy, Mr. Anderson," he said, smiling as he eyed Ronald. He had never cared for Ronald.

"She had the power to will her capital, I believe?" suggested Ronald.

"She had," answered the lawyer. "She leaves you the interest on all of it, so long as her dog Mopsy lives—provided that you personally care for and—hum!—exercise it daily. After the dog's death it all goes to certain charities."

Day by day Ronald Anderson may be seen leading a stout, asthmatic pug dog on a cord along the street. Sometimes the boys call after him. He never kicks it now.

Miss Thompson watches from her window.

Original Funeral Floral Pieces.

Marie Lloyd, a favorite English comedienne, was stricken dead while on the stage in the midst of her number. The crowd attending the funeral was so great that traffic was seriously interfered with. There were more than 500 floral offerings, many of them very unique. For instance, one represented a panel of white flowers in which the notes of her closing song were worked out in violets. One of her favorite songs was "The Empty Cage," and one of the floral pieces represented the empty cage with the door open and the bird flown.

CITY HEADS FAVOR TAFT TAX MEASURE

Bill Giving Weak Districts Financial Relief Is Good, They Say.

Columbus, Jan. 31.—City officials appearing before the tax committee of the house of representatives last night gave practically unqualified endorsement of the Taft bill which is designed to establish a method of permanent relief for financially distressed taxing districts by setting maximum limitations and providing for most bond issues to be outside these limitations.

Finance Director G. A. Gesell of Cleveland, declared the Taft bill was "starting right" by placing sinking fund and interest charges on bond issues outside the limitations and asserted this principle was the fundamental part of the measure. His only objection to the measure was that he believed the proposed elective budget commission was clothed with too much power, especially in revising budgets. City Attorney Dotson of Toledo objected to the proposed elective budget commission, contending that prosecuting attorney, county auditor and county treasurer were the ideal officials to compose the budget commission.

Director Gesell severely criticized the Smith one per cent law, declaring it was responsible for the financial straits of cities today because it limited the taxing authority, but did not limit the tax spending authority.

Mayor Carroll of Cincinnati asserted that if the present system of taxation is continued, other states will begin to legislate against Ohio, forbidding the investing of private trusts in bonds of Ohio municipalities as they are certain to be forced to default in payment. He declared the Taft bill will remedy the situation.

How to Use Vicks VapoRub For Deep Grippy Colds

First, It Is Very Important That a Thorough Rubefacient Or Counter-Irritant Effect Be Produced On the Surface Of the Skin Around the Lungs.

This Draws the Blood From the Congested Lungs and Lessens the Danger of Pneumonia.

THEN TREAT WITH VICKS

Deep, grippy colds, frequently leading to pneumonia, have been unusually prevalent this winter. In some sections they are called influenza, but are not so virulent as the influenza cases during the first epidemic, though they are worse than ordinary colds. For these cases the usual light application of Vicks is not sufficient.

The Danger Is From Pneumonia

What is needed therefore is something to decrease the congestion of the lungs. For this purpose there is nothing like a rubefacient or counter-irritant, as witness the use of blisters, poultices and plasters for many generations. This reddening or irritation of the skin causes a rush of blood to the surface; the circulation is improved; there is a sensation of warmth and the possibility of pneumonia is greatly lessened.

A "Quick" Rubefacient Needed

The value of this counter-irritant effect is greatly increased if it is produced quickly. Nearly every family has its favorite method—onion poultices, turpentine stupes, mustard plasters and poultices of various kinds are all good.

How to Produce This Effect

Our experiments have shown that an ordinary mustard plaster is very effective. Use one part of mustard to two parts of flour or flaxseed meal for adults, and one to three parts for children under eight years. An even simpler method, particularly for adults, is to apply towels, wrung out in very hot water—as hot as the patient can stand. Whatever method is used, the application should be applied over the throat and chest until the skin is thoroughly reddened. In very deep colds, the sides and especially the back from the middle of the shoulder blades to a point just above the waist, should also be treated. For adults, a hot mustard foot-bath—one tablespoon of mustard to a gallon of water—given at this stage of the treatment, will aid in drawing the blood from the congested parts.

Then Massage With Vicks

After the skin is thoroughly reddened it should be dried lightly and immediately the patient should be given a brisk massage with Vicks all over the parts. Continue this for five minutes. This increases the counter-irritant effect. Then apply Vicks thickly over all parts; that is, spread it on like you would a poultice—about one-sixteenth of an inch thick or more—and cover with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths.

Vicks Acts Like a Vapor Lamp

The advantage of applying Vicks thickly over the body is this: Vicks is so made that the body heat gradually releases the ingredients in the form of vapors. The more Vicks applied, the stronger will be the vapors and the longer these vapors will last. The night clothing should always be loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a tunnel. These vapors being lighter than air rise up from the chest and, if the bed clothing is properly arranged, pass by the nose and mouth and are thus inhaled with each breath, carrying the medication directly thru the air passages to the lungs. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin.

Repeat the Entire Treatment

When the vapors begin to lose their strength, fresh Vicks should be applied over the parts. This to keep up the continuous supply of vapors. When the redness of the skin begins to die out, all the Vicks remaining should be wiped off and the entire treatment repeated. That is, the hot wet towels or mustard plasters should be used until the skin is thoroughly reddened, then massage with Vicks, spread on thickly and cover with hot flannels, just as previously done.

Can Add Mustard To Vicks

This redness of the skin should last for two or three hours, but varies with different patients. Some skins are much more sensitive than others. This redness can be prolonged by mixing a little ordinary powdered mustard to four parts of Vicks, but mustard with Vicks—about one part this can be varied according to the patient's skin. Just enough mustard should be used to keep up the counter-irritant effect for two to four hours, so that the wet towels or mustard plasters will not have to be used so frequently as to prevent the patient from resting.

Use in a Tea-Kettle

Sometimes when the patient is badly choked up, the vapors from the application on the chest are not sufficient. In these cases drop a tablespoonful of Vicks into a kettle of boiling water and allow the patient to inhale the warm steam and vapors combined for about 10 minutes. Do this several times a day if needed. Keep the water boiling and put in additional Vicks whenever the vapors decrease. Put a sheet over the patient and the tea-kettle, making a kind of a tent, so as to confine the vapors. An ordinary steam vaporizer is even more convenient than a tea-kettle.

Scanty Applications Useless

This is a vigorous treatment, but to check congestion requires vigorous measures. Vicks must be used freely to be effective. The cost of this treatment is insignificant compared with the results which are frequently obtained.

Does Not Take the Place of the Physician

In all cases a physician should be called. These deep colds are too serious and have too many complications to rely entirely on any home medical treatment. Vicks, however, does not interfere with any treatment that the doctor may prescribe. In addition the formula of Vicks is given on every circular so there is no reason why any doctor should object to its use, except the fact that a few physicians do not care to use anything which is advertised directly to the public.

A Pharmacist's Discovery

Vicks VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina pharmacist. From the back room of a little drug store its use has grown until today literally tens of millions of families are never without the familiar blue jar. It is their standby for all forms of cold troubles and, in addition, is useful for the many minor ailments of the home. It is particularly a boon to mothers with small children, because it is externally applied.

Over 17 million jars are used yearly in the United States alone.

POLICEMEN LOSE IN SUPREME COURT

Columbus, Jan. 31.—Twenty-five Youngstown policemen who lost their jobs through reorganization of the police department by Safety Director Hamilton under a city ordinance, lost their fight for reinstatement in the state supreme court today. The court refused to consider their appeal, the lower courts having sustained the action of the safety director.
In reorganization the police department, the city council repealed the ordinance providing for only 116. The safety director called on the civil service commission for a list of eligibles to supply the 116 positions, and the commission submitted the entire old list of 141. As only 116 could be appointed under the ordinance, 25 policemen were thus let out permanently.

BIG GAIN SHOWN BY LOAN BODIES

Columbus, Jan. 31.—Ohio building and loan associations made a gain in their assets of $35,000,000 during the fiscal year according to his annual report filed by John W. Prugh, state superintendent of building and loan associations.

During the year, 1922, 88 new building and loan associations were chartered. Ohio now has 190 of these institutions with total assets of $560,000,000 and an authorized capital of $1,326,725,000.

The department, according to Prugh, turned into the state treasury a net profit for the year of $21,946.22 after all operating expense, were paid.

There were no failures nor did any depositor suffer a loss during the year. The records fail to show a loss to depositors in the last 30 years the report says.

It is claimed by the building and loan men that their associations helped to finance 40,000 homes in the past six months and that they are prepared to assist the building of a like number the next six months.

St. Clairsville—Belmont County Farm Bureau, in its annual session here, adopted resolutions favoring a state income tax, submitting bond issues only at regular elections, for rural police and for a heavier tax on auto trucks. Because it would be opposing the stand of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, a plank favoring uniform taxation was eliminated from the resolution after a fight.

"Done With Acting," Arbuckle Contracts As Comedy Director

Los Angeles, Jan. 31.—Kosce C.

"Fatty" Arbuckle announced today he had signed a contract to direct motion pictures for a comedy film corporation and that he was "done with acting."

"My greatest ambition is to make people laugh, to make them happy and I can do this best as a director of comedies," he said.

"This is my chance to make good in a way that will meet the approval of all. I start work at once."

When Will H. Hays, motion picture arbiter recently removed the ban placed upon Arbuckle pictures, the comedian announced he would appear in a film being made in a Hollywood studio. Religious and other organizations in various parts of the country protested against the re-instatement of the actor because of the nature of the testimony produced in his trials for manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappo, in San Francisco last year, which ended his acquittal.

Many around here are afflicted with "flu."

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Dively and family were entertained Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Willis Rotel.

Walter Johnson Will Enter 17th Year In Baseball

Reno, Nev., Jan. 31.—When Walter Johnson winds up for the last time, he's going to settle down in Reno.

So says E. E. Roberts, father-in-law of the Kansas Cyclone, and former congressman from Nevada, with whom the world's speed ball artist has been spending the winter.

Walter corroborated the statement of his wife's father, but smiles about all the talk that the year 1923 will be his last with the Washington Senators.

"I'll admit, I've been in the game a long time," he said. "This will be the seventeenth season. Yes, I'm going back again. I haven't signed a contract yet, but the boss wrote me a letter the other day and wanted to know what I needed in the way of an outfit. Guess that means that 'm' wanted.' And Walter smiled in the same old way.

"They've treated me pretty fine at Washington and I'm going to play my last game of ball with them," he continued. "Come to think, I've been with Washington a long time. The club has been sold several times and the players have changed a dozen times over.

"Still there's Ty Cobb and Eddie Collins and a few more who have been in the big leagues longer than I have and still going strong. After living in Washington so long, I've come to look at life like the politicians. I'll hang on as long as they'll have me."

Johnson sticks to mother nature to keep him in trim. The days he isn't

ATHLETIC RECORDS IN INDOOR EVENTS MAY FALL TONIGHT

New York, Jan. 31.—Records will be worth a dime a dozen tonight when a great field of athletes will go to the post in the annual games of the Millrose A. A., at Madison Square Garden.

Joise Ray and a specially constructed track, banked on the turns, may account for new figures in the mile and a half special; Johnny Murphy and Leroy Brown will tangle with the world's indoor high jump record, Bob McAllister, Al Laconey and Loren Murchison will break from the mark in the Millrose six hundred.

Kay will be making his first local appearance since the lifting of successive suspensions and he will be chased over the mile and a half distance and very possibly into new record figures, none other than Ray Baker, a great two-miler; R. E. Brown, former Cornell inter-collegiate conference champion and Russell Wharton, Chicago star. If there is not a record in this crowd then Selva watchmaking is a lost art.

Murchison is the holder of the world's record of six and two-fifths seconds for 60 yards, established with a watch split into fifth seconds. Tonight he will be timed with watches that halt upon request at tenth seconds. Murchison is almost unbeatable at this distance indoors. McAllister and Laconey, respective national and inter-national champions at 100 yards with the winner of the 50 yard event, will furnish all the competition Murchison may desire.

The Murphy-Brown duel in the high jump will be one of the big moments, but it is barely possible that Osborne, who jumped 6 feet 5 1/2 inches to win the national title, may beat both of them.

No more Rheumatism

"Suffering has gone from your face, mother!"

S. S. S. Is the Great Builder of Red Blood Cells and Rheumatism Must Go Just Try It!

"Rheumatism? Me? No, indeed, it's all gone, every bit of it! It's a sunshine and joy for me now for the first time in years. I feel a wonderful glow again in the face, motion I used to have when my days were younger. I look at my hands and think of the twists and swellings they used to have. I bend way over to the floor. I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all! To me it was a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you. There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of your red-blood cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Every thing depends on blood strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red-cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them. S. S. S. is the great blood-builder, blood-purifier, system-strengthening, nerve-invigorator. It stops skin eruptions, too, pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema. It builds up down, tired men and women, beatifies complexion, makes the flesh firmer. Start S. S. S. today. It is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

New Gingham

Refreshing as the First
Pert Robin

A refreshing spectacle these new Gingham. They are harbingers of spring—one of fashion's first edicts concerning new tubables for the new season.

They conjure up visions of crisp little frocks for the children—practical yet charming—as well as innumerable frocks for yourself as freshly attractive as a shining May morning. Not to mention the many interesting house aprons and frocks that make a decorative affair of housekeeping.

Brown—
the New Color

Brown is a fashionable color for Gingham this season, succeeding the red of last season's popularity. 'Heliotope', too, is smart. Little checks are quite the fashionable pattern. Plain Gingham for sports togs have adopted such vivid colors as orange and vivid rose.

Pictorial Patterns
35 Cents
None Higher

We have just received the new Pictorial Patterns. Particularly adapted to use in making gingham frocks for spring.

Ginghams

Goods Not Delivered, Sues Benton Studios

The case of the Benton studios against Louis Hawkins of Columbiana was placed on trial in court room No. 2 today. It is an action for $500 damages brought by the studios for alleged non-delivery of goods. The claim is that because the goods were not delivered the company lost that amount. The defendant claims that the man representing the studios refused to give directions as to where the goods were to go.

TIED, NERVOUS MOTHERS

are the direct cause of much unhappiness in our homes; their condition irritates and wears upon the husband and often ruins a child's disposition. This condition of the mother is often due to some weakness which makes her entirely unfit to perform her household duties and bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involves. Every woman who finds herself in this condition should remember that statistics prove that 88 out of every 100 women who suffer from female ills are helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and lose no time in giving it a fair trial.

Royal - Theatre TONIGHT & TOMORROW GLENN HUNTER in "The Cradle Buster"

This Kid Busted Out of Cradle to Crash Through Manhood

Hush-a-bye baby, on the tree top,
When the wind blows the cradle will rock;
When the bough breaks the cradle will fall;
Down will come baby, cradle and all!

That's what happened when Benjamin Franklin Reed broke out in "The Cradle Buster," the season's greatest comedy motion picture, which is at the Royal theater starting today. It's the best comedy produced since "Twenty-three and One-Half Hours Leave," and will make you laugh until your sides ache from pain. It is a whirlwind story of a small town youth, gawky and bashful, who has been known as "Sweetie" all his life, but on his twenty-first birthday he breaks out and becomes a regular fellow.

You probably know how the long tongue of gossip and the pointing finger of scorn have often destroyed a girl's chances in a community. Unfounded suspicion, cruel scandal, almost inhuman treatment may crush the bravest spirit. That is the situation which confronts Shirley Mason in this picture. Her refreshing charm, delightful grace and dauntless beauty and manner will give you exceptional pleasure.
